At the heart of our conference facilities is the Mauna Lani Lanai, a classic Hawaiian veranda. A grand staircase and tiled reception area set the tone in this central open-air space. Spilling out onto a garden, the Lanai is a favorite place for visitors to gather before or after functions in the adjoining meeting rooms. Hale Hoaloha

The 10,800 square foot “House of Friends” is Mauna Lani’s center for large meetings and conferences, accommodating up to 1000 for a reception or 800 seated in a unique indoor/outdoor setting.

Nestled in a grove of palms a stone’s throw from the main hotel, Hale Hoaloha blends the charm of old Hawaii with the finest in modern technology. Discover why we named our flagship meeting area the House of Friends. It’s the perfect setting for an event you’ll never forget.

Theme Parties

When your meetings are done for the day, let the party begin. Begin with an unforgettable island sunset and end under star-studded skies. Hawaii’s mild temperate climate allows outdoor setups for small dinners and grand themed events by the sound of the surf year-round.

Welcome to Paradise Reception

Stroll down to the Milo Tree. Start to unwind under palm trees lit in a variety of colors and hear the chants of a Hawaiian Trio. Get the kinks out of your neck and back with a chair massage. Enjoy a mai tai or tropical libation. There’s no agenda, just meeting old friends and making new ones, enjoying sumptuous appetizers, and getting into the rhythm of paradise.

Fire and Ice

The Big Island of Hawaii is truly the land of “Fire and Ice.” From the snow-capped peaks of Mauna Kea to the fiery glow of flowing lava. Celebrate this unique combination with an elegant evening of music and dance.

A guitarist serenades guests as they select the cocktail of their choice from the “Martini Ice Bar,” made entirely out of ice. Doors to the Mauna Lani Ballroom or the Hale Hoaloha open and a world of fire and ice welcomes you. Everywhere you look it’s either red hot or ice cold. Hawaiian vignettes are staged between five dinner courses.

The Ultimate Beach Party

Kick off your shoes for a casual night on the beach. The chefs are grilling up steaks and shrimp, a band playing Beach Boys songs and other classic tunes gets the crowd dancing, and even the palm trees are swaying to the beat. Unwind and enjoy all that Mauna Lani has to offer.

Jazz Under The Stars

Let the darkness fill your imagination. Thousands of blue lights float in midair under a canopy of stars. Combine the wonders of modern technology with the metaphysical. We'll arrange your own astronomer with a powerful telescope and maps of our Hawaiian skies. Venus, Mars, and the rings of Saturn are the most popular sights. The silhouette of hula dancers adds a touch of Hawaii to this celestial evening.

Enjoy cuisines from around the world, symbolizing our international roots. Japanese, Chinese, Thailand, and Hawaiian foods await, or any other regional cuisine that you might desire.

The Interactive Luau

There's no better way to unwind after a productive day than enjoying an extravagant Hawaiian buffet and a night of Polynesian entertainment. As guests enter the tropical lu'au, they're greeted by the sounds of a Hawaiian trio and keiki (children) giving them a lei and a warm welcome. Experience a few of the ancient arts with local artisans including lei making, palm frond weaving, poi pounding, and wood carving.

Fire Knife Dancers

Performances are woven throughout the evening. Begin with a Maori warrior dance; after the buffet, your guests will be dazzled by a Tahitian dance or the fire knife dance. Let our staff work with you to tailor the perfect Hawaiian meeting at Mauna Lani.

We look forward to welcoming you to Mauna Lani Bay Hotel & Bungalows.
